Rod,

I mentioned yesterday that IDEM has a list of approved contractors. I found the link on their web page and am forwarding it to you below for your purposes.

I am also attaching a link to our program website that will help to explain the background, purpose and requirements of the Corrective Action program. You should ask about their familiarity with the Corrective Action program when you have your discussions and select a contractor.

Please let me know if I can provide any additional information.
